

DCAR Names 2025 REALTOR® of the Year!

Congratulations to Stacey Barton, named District of Columbia REALTOR® of the Year by the District of Columbia Association of REALTORS®. This annual award recognizes members who demonstrate exceptional dedication and leadership in advancing their association and the real estate profession. Stacey's contributions exemplify the highest standards of what it means to be a REALTOR®.

"I am honored to be recognized as DCAR's 2025 REALTOR® of the Year. I'm grateful for the trust my clients place in me and for the mentorship, support, and collaboration of those who continue to shape my journey.

To me, success goes beyond numbers — it's about the impact we make, the relationships we build, and the commitment we show to our communities. This year has brought its share of challenges, but it has also reinforced the resilience and adaptability that define our profession.

I am proud to serve an industry dedicated to helping people achieve their dreams, and I will continue doing this work with gratitude, purpose, and passion" — Stacey Barton
